

Sean Lucy y Los New Mexico Playboys are back on the road this summer, in support of their new album, Ojos de Marijuana. They're bringing their raw, dusty sound to the streets of your town and plan on leaving you with your skin peeled off by the soul-tearing sounds of country and western psychedelia. Put on your best heartbreak and go roam the streets like the starved vampires you are in search of the Sean Lucy show that is coming closest to you.
